PERFORMANCE PROGRESS REPORT Benchmark Evaluations SF-PPR-C

									Page	of Pages
Federal Agency and Organization Element to Which Report is Submitted			Federal Grant or other Identifying Number Assigned by Federal Agency				3a. DUNS 3b. EIN			4. Reporting Period End Date (Month, Day, Year)
(1a) Strateg ic Goals	(1b) Polic y Prior ity	(2) Problem, Need, Situation	(3) Service or Activities/Output	(4a) Units	(4b) Quantit y		(5) (6) Outcome Units		(7) Quan	(8)
Policy		Planning	Programming	Benchmark Measure		Impact		Outcome Measure		Accountability
				INIC.			риот		dourc	A. Tools for Measurement
										B. Where Data Maintained
										C. Source of Data
										D. Frequency of Collection
										E. Processing of Data

Note:

- Agencies will specify if this page is required
- This page can be used for one or more activities and results, and can be duplicated

Line Item Instructions for Attachment C, Benchmark Evaluations

Data Elements	Instructions
	Enter the name of the awarding Federal agency and organizational element identified in the award document or otherwise instructed by the agency. The organizational element is a sub-agency within an
•	awarding Federal agency.
	Enter the grant/award number contained in the award document.
	Zinor the grant arrange names of themself are the arrange about the Enter the recipient organization's Data Universal Numbering System (DUNS) number or Central Contract Registry extended DUNS number.
FIN	Enter the recipient organization's Employer Identification Number
EIIV	(EIN) provided by the Internal Revenue Service.
Reporting Period End	Enter the ending date of the reporting period. For quarterly, semi-annual, and annual reports, the following calendar quarter reporting Date	period end dates shall be used: 3/31; 6/30; 9/30 and or 12/31. For final PPRs, the reporting period end date shall be the end date of the project/grant period. The frequency of required reporting is usually established in the award document.
ork Evoluations	established in the award document.
	Indicate in this column the number or label of the Federal Award
Strategic Goals
	Agency-specified or Program-specific goal(s) that your proposed service or activity is designed to achieve.
	(Awarding Federal agencies may provide guidance on format and purpose of this number or label. —For example, an agency may prescribe specific activities, may prescribe how to map activities to specific goals/objectives or program/priority areas, Dollar Drianitica	or may leave the determination to the recipient).
Policy Priorities	Indicate I this column the number or label of the Federal Awarding Ladency-specified of Program-specific if any volir proposed service Agency-specified or Program-specific, if any, your proposed service
Dualitaria Nacal Cityatian	or activity promotes.
Problem, Need Situation	or activity promotes. Provide a general statement of need that provides the rationale for
, 	or activity promotes. Provide a general statement of need that provides the rationale for the proposed service or activity.
Service or Activity /	or activity promotes. Provide a general statement of need that provides the rationale for the proposed service or activity. Identify the activities or services that you are undertaking in your
, 	or activity promotes. Provide a general statement of need that provides the rationale for the proposed service or activity. Identify the activities or services that you are undertaking in your work plan, which are crucial to the success of your program. Not
Service or Activity / Output	or activity promotes. Provide a general statement of need that provides the rationale for the proposed service or activity. Identify the activities or services that you are undertaking in your work plan, which are crucial to the success of your program. Not every activity or service yields a direct outcome.
Service or Activity /	or activity promotes. Provide a general statement of need that provides the rationale for the proposed service or activity. Identify the activities or services that you are undertaking in your work plan, which are crucial to the success of your program. Not every activity or service yields a direct outcome. The Benchmark or Output Measure columns ask you to identify units
Service or Activity / Output	or activity promotes. Provide a general statement of need that provides the rationale for the proposed service or activity. Identify the activities or services that you are undertaking in your work plan, which are crucial to the success of your program. Not every activity or service yields a direct outcome. The Benchmark or Output Measure columns ask you to identify units of measure and the quantity that will be used in measuring the
Service or Activity / Output	or activity promotes. Provide a general statement of need that provides the rationale for the proposed service or activity. Identify the activities or services that you are undertaking in your work plan, which are crucial to the success of your program. Not every activity or service yields a direct outcome. The Benchmark or Output Measure columns ask you to identify units of measure and the quantity that will be used in measuring the progress of your services or activities. Units/Quantity asks for
Service or Activity / Output	or activity promotes. Provide a general statement of need that provides the rationale for the proposed service or activity. Identify the activities or services that you are undertaking in your work plan, which are crucial to the success of your program. Not every activity or service yields a direct outcome. The Benchmark or Output Measure columns ask you to identify units of measure and the quantity that will be used in measuring the progress of your services or activities. Units/Quantity asks for specific interim or final products (call outputs) that you establish for
Service or Activity / Output	or activity promotes. Provide a general statement of need that provides the rationale for the proposed service or activity. Identify the activities or services that you are undertaking in your work plan, which are crucial to the success of your program. Not every activity or service yields a direct outcome. The Benchmark or Output Measure columns ask you to identify units of measure and the quantity that will be used in measuring the progress of your services or activities. Units/Quantity asks for specific interim or final products (call outputs) that you establish for your program's services or activities. Use quantifiable output goals,
Service or Activity / Output	or activity promotes. Provide a general statement of need that provides the rationale for the proposed service or activity. Identify the activities or services that you are undertaking in your work plan, which are crucial to the success of your program. Not every activity or service yields a direct outcome. The Benchmark or Output Measure columns ask you to identify units of measure and the quantity that will be used in measuring the progress of your services or activities. Units/Quantity asks for specific interim or final products (call outputs) that you establish for your program's services or activities. Use quantifiable output goals, including timeframes. These should be products or interim products,
Service or Activity / Output	or activity promotes. Provide a general statement of need that provides the rationale for the proposed service or activity. Identify the activities or services that you are undertaking in your work plan, which are crucial to the success of your program. Not every activity or service yields a direct outcome. The Benchmark or Output Measure columns ask you to identify units of measure and the quantity that will be used in measuring the progress of your services or activities. Units/Quantity asks for specific interim or final products (call outputs) that you establish for your program's services or activities. Use quantifiable output goals, including timeframes. These should be products or interim products, which will allow you and the Federal Awarding Agency to monitor
Service or Activity / Output Benchmark Measures	or activity promotes. Provide a general statement of need that provides the rationale for the proposed service or activity. Identify the activities or services that you are undertaking in your work plan, which are crucial to the success of your program. Not every activity or service yields a direct outcome. The Benchmark or Output Measure columns ask you to identify units of measure and the quantity that will be used in measuring the progress of your services or activities. Units/Quantity asks for specific interim or final products (call outputs) that you establish for your program's services or activities. Use quantifiable output goals, including timeframes. These should be products or interim products, which will allow you and the Federal Awarding Agency to monitor and assess your progress in achieving your program workplan.
Service or Activity / Output	or activity promotes. Provide a general statement of need that provides the rationale for the proposed service or activity. Identify the activities or services that you are undertaking in your work plan, which are crucial to the success of your program. Not every activity or service yields a direct outcome. The Benchmark or Output Measure columns ask you to identify units of measure and the quantity that will be used in measuring the progress of your services or activities. Units/Quantity asks for specific interim or final products (call outputs) that you establish for your program's services or activities. Use quantifiable output goals, including timeframes. These should be products or interim products, which will allow you and the Federal Awarding Agency to monitor and assess your progress in achieving your program workplan. Units/Quantity should identify the results associated with the product
Service or Activity / Output Benchmark Measures	or activity promotes. Provide a general statement of need that provides the rationale for the proposed service or activity. Identify the activities or services that you are undertaking in your work plan, which are crucial to the success of your program. Not every activity or service yields a direct outcome. The Benchmark or Output Measure columns ask you to identify units of measure and the quantity that will be used in measuring the progress of your services or activities. Units/Quantity asks for specific interim or final products (call outputs) that you establish for your program's services or activities. Use quantifiable output goals, including timeframes. These should be products or interim products, which will allow you and the Federal Awarding Agency to monitor and assess your progress in achieving your program workplan. Units/Quantity should identify the results associated with the product or output. These may be numerical measures characterizing the
Service or Activity / Output Benchmark Measures	or activity promotes. Provide a general statement of need that provides the rationale for the proposed service or activity. Identify the activities or services that you are undertaking in your work plan, which are crucial to the success of your program. Not every activity or service yields a direct outcome. The Benchmark or Output Measure columns ask you to identify units of measure and the quantity that will be used in measuring the progress of your services or activities. Units/Quantity asks for specific interim or final products (call outputs) that you establish for your program's services or activities. Use quantifiable output goals, including timeframes. These should be products or interim products, which will allow you and the Federal Awarding Agency to monitor and assess your progress in achieving your program workplan. Units/Quantity should identify the results associated with the product
Service or Activity / Output Benchmark Measures	or activity promotes. Provide a general statement of need that provides the rationale for the proposed service or activity. Identify the activities or services that you are undertaking in your work plan, which are crucial to the success of your program. Not every activity or service yields a direct outcome. The Benchmark or Output Measure columns ask you to identify units of measure and the quantity that will be used in measuring the progress of your services or activities. Units/Quantity asks for specific interim or final products (call outputs) that you establish for your program's services or activities. Use quantifiable output goals, including timeframes. These should be products or interim products, which will allow you and the Federal Awarding Agency to monitor and assess your progress in achieving your program workplan. Units/Quantity should identify the results associated with the product or output. These may be numerical measures characterizing the
Service or Activity / Output Benchmark Measures	or activity promotes. Provide a general statement of need that provides the rationale for the proposed service or activity. Identify the activities or services that you are undertaking in your work plan, which are crucial to the success of your program. Not every activity or service yields a direct outcome. The Benchmark or Output Measure columns ask you to identify units of measure and the quantity that will be used in measuring the progress of your services or activities. Units/Quantity asks for specific interim or final products (call outputs) that you establish for your program's services or activities. Use quantifiable output goals, including timeframes. These should be products or interim products, which will allow you and the Federal Awarding Agency to monitor and assess your progress in achieving your program workplan. Units/Quantity should identify the results associated with the product or output. These may be numerical measures characterizing the results of a program activity, service or intervention and are used to
Service or Activity / Output Benchmark Measures	or activity promotes. Provide a general statement of need that provides the rationale for the proposed service or activity. Identify the activities or services that you are undertaking in your work plan, which are crucial to the success of your program. Not every activity or service yields a direct outcome. The Benchmark or Output Measure columns ask you to identify units of measure and the quantity that will be used in measuring the progress of your services or activities. Units/Quantity asks for specific interim or final products (call outputs) that you establish for your program's services or activities. Use quantifiable output goals, including timeframes. These should be products or interim products, which will allow you and the Federal Awarding Agency to monitor and assess your progress in achieving your program workplan. Units/Quantity should identify the results associated with the product or output. These may be numerical measures characterizing the results of a program activity, service or intervention and are used to measure performance. These outputs should lead to targets for
Service or Activity / Output Benchmark Measures	or activity promotes. Provide a general statement of need that provides the rationale for the proposed service or activity. Identify the activities or services that you are undertaking in your work plan, which are crucial to the success of your program. Not every activity or service yields a direct outcome. The Benchmark or Output Measure columns ask you to identify units of measure and the quantity that will be used in measuring the progress of your services or activities. Units/Quantity asks for specific interim or final products (call outputs) that you establish for your program's services or activities. Use quantifiable output goals, including timeframes. These should be products or interim products, which will allow you and the Federal Awarding Agency to monitor and assess your progress in achieving your program workplan. Units/Quantity should identify the results associated with the product or output. These may be numerical measures characterizing the results of a program activity, service or intervention and are used to measure performance. These outputs should lead to targets for achievement of outcomes. Results should be represented by both
Service or Activity / Output Benchmark Measures	Provide a general statement of need that provides the rationale for the proposed service or activity. Identify the activities or services that you are undertaking in your work plan, which are crucial to the success of your program. Not every activity or service yields a direct outcome. The Benchmark or Output Measure columns ask you to identify units of measure and the quantity that will be used in measuring the progress of your services or activities. Units/Quantity asks for specific interim or final products (call outputs) that you establish for your program's services or activities. Use quantifiable output goals, including timeframes. These should be products or interim products, which will allow you and the Federal Awarding Agency to monitor and assess your progress in achieving your program workplan. Units/Quantity should identify the results associated with the product or output. These may be numerical measures characterizing the results of a program activity, service or intervention and are used to measure performance. These outputs should lead to targets for achievement of outcomes. Results should be represented by both the actual # and % of the goal achieved. Report actual result of your
	Awarding Federal agency and Organizational Element to Which Report is Submitted Federal Grant or Other Identifying Number Assigned by the awarding Federal agency DUNS Number EIN Reporting Period End Date ark Evaluations Strategic Goals Policy Priorities

Line Item Instructions for Attachment C, Benchmark Evaluations (cont.)

C.(8)	EvaluationTools	 (A) Tools for Measurement: List the tools used to track output or outcome information (e.g., survey instrument; attendance log; case report; pre=post test; waiting list; etc). (B) Where Data Maintained: Identify the place where data is maintained, e.g., central database; individual case records; specialized database, tax assessor database; local precinct; other. (C) Source of Data: Identify the location of source of data, e.g., onsite; subcontractor; other. (D) Frequency of Collection: Indicate how often data is required to be collected, who will collect it and how often data is reported to the Federal Awarding Agency. (E) Processing of Data: Describe methods for retrieving data, e.g., data from case records is retrieved manually, data is maintained in an automated database. This tool will be available for Federal Award Agency review and monitoring and should be used in submitting reporting information.